College Tips

It's about your college courses first.
You have to understand that even though you have freedom, you still have responsibilities.

Spend your financial aid on what you need! This means books, scantrons, and other necessary school supplies.

Go to class, every class! You should study too, but by going to class, you'll have the tool set to succeed.

Choose your friends wisely. Pick those with the same goals, motivation, discipline, and willpower.

Avoid the “freshman 15”. Maintain a healthy diet and have balance!

Stick to a schedule, not just a class schedule. This includes a sleep schedule.

Don't get into unneeded and unnecessary debt. Your financial future starts in college. If you need money, get a job, not a credit card.

Get your degree in a timely manner. Don't waste time and money. Once you graduate, there will be bigger and better things out there.
